Dear Kentuckians,

Since my first day in public office, my administration has focused on creating a new Kentucky home by enhancing public and officer safety. Every single person who calls our great commonwealth home deserves to feel and be safe, without fearing crime in their neighborhoods and community streets. During my second gubernatorial term, I pledged to remain committed to creating that better Kentucky we all want for future generations, and every day, my administration reaffirms this promise.

Over 8,000 law enforcement officers choose to put the safety of their fellow Kentuckians first every day, knowing that they may be the one between danger and the community. This is a sacrifice few of us will ever know, but one that we work to show gratitude for by championing critical resources, equipment, training and funding to help our officers return home safely to their families at the end of their shifts.

This report, the 2023 Crime in Kentucky report, provides information for law enforcement to be more proactive and aware of trends while allowing local communities to reroute resources and create programs to combat and reduce crime. Kentuckians deserve a clear picture of the communities in which they live, and this report provides them that transparency.

Ensuring that public safety is available to all is one of the most collaborative and important efforts of state and local government, and I am proud to stand with you and Kentucky's law enforcement in this endeavor. I will never forget the sacrifices of our peace officers and their families, and I will never stop protecting our families and children as we make Kentucky a national leader in public safety.

Sincerely,

Andy Beshear

A summarized total of Group-A crimes (by counts) reported by law enforcement agencies in Kentucky during the previous year is shown in the chart above. These overall statistics reflect only offenses reported to the Kentucky State Police at the time of publication.

When making comparisons between years, the following should be considered: (1) Reports received after the release date and updates to previously submitted data can affect prior totals. (2) Data are shown in the form of "Counts," rather than individual incidents; a single incident may contain multiple counts for a specific offense. (3) Data may not be inclusive of all offenses reported to the police. (4) Increases or decreases in the number of crimes reported can be attributed to a variety of factors, including the number of counts for specific offenses being reported and methods of reporting and tabulating on the part of law enforcement agencies. (5) Differing levels of citizen awareness and their responsibility to report crimes have a direct impact on the number of reports received by police.

State reporting vs. Private reporting: All law enforcement agencies in Kentucky submit offense data via NIBRS, (National Incident Based Reporting System). This is done either through the state provided system, "KYOPS," or through a private Incident Based Reporting System (IBR). During the 2023 reporting year, 4 departments submitted data through their own IBR system: (Louisville Metro Police Department, Winchester Police Department, Owensboro Police Department, and Nelson County Sheriff's Department).

Variations in totals may be found based on how the state processes offense data received compared to how private reporting agencies submit data. This can be due to certain factors such as when data are received, how frequently offense data are updated, the date stamp attached to submitted files, and whether past year incidents are included with current year records as updates. As such, to ensure this report reflects the most accurately reported numbers at the time of publication, the system-derived records for these departments have been replaced with verified totals approved by the individual private reporting agencies.

APPENDIX

Appendix – A

Clarification on 2022 LMPD Crime in Kentucky Data

The statistics provided within the Crime in Kentucky publication are collected through the receipt of offense and arrest data which are submitted to the Kentucky State Police by law enforcement agencies throughout the Commonwealth.

The Kentucky State Police require that offense data be submitted under the FBI's National Incident Based Reporting System specifications, known as "NIBRS."

NIBRS data are submitted electronically to the state in one of two ways: through the state's free reporting tool, known as KYOPS, or through an agency's own private IBR (Incident Based Reporting) system. Departments that report through their own systems are referred to as "IBR agencies."

The statistics presented in the Crime in Kentucky publication are merely a snapshot of offense and arrest data at the time of release. Reports received after the release date and updates to previously submitted data can affect prior totals. Therefore, data are not static and are subject to changes after publication. In addition, how data are submitted through private IBR systems can also affect totals, such as rejected incidents (those that do not pass NIBRS requirements or specifications), or when the date-stamp attached to file submissions is later than the incident year being pulled.

The offense totals initially reported in the 2022 Crime in Kentucky publication reflect a lower overall crime total than what would be indicated if the same data were processed today. While some of the aforementioned factors are included, the largest influence in this variation can be attributed to the differences in private IBR reporting versus KYOPS reporting; most notably with the Louisville Metro Police Department (LMPD).

As one of the largest police agencies within the state, the LMPD makes up a significant portion of reported offense data, and as a private IBR agency, their submissions are processed by something called "Year of Tape," which is the date-stamp attached to the submission files that are received. The state's system is designed to pull private IBR data based on the associated Year of Tape. In most instances, there is always going to be a carryover in data, as private IBR files are submitted on monthly intervals and end of year data is not submitted until shortly following the new year.

When pulling data for the 2022 report, there were a large number of incidents submitted with a 2023 year of tape, which is when LMPD processed the data for submission. As such, these data were not included in the 2022 report, however, they would naturally carry over into the 2023 report when the data were pulled for the following year.

To ensure the most accurate representation of crime, future publications will rely on verified numbers approved by our private IBR agencies rather than the system-derived data drawn from their file submissions. As of this publication, there are only four departments which utilize their own IBR systems for submitting offense data to the State: Louisville Metro Police Department, Winchester Police Department, Owensboro Police Department, and Nelson County Sheriff's Department.
